HONGKONG, OCTOBER 26, 1867.

It will be scarcely necessary, in view of various opinions which have been already expressed in these columns, to say that we heartily sympathise with the suggestions in the letter from our correspondent "Justitia," which appeared yesterday. For the colony to subside into complete silence and resignation to its fate, because the Colonial Office does not choose to acknowledge its communications, would be an unworthy policy for an Anglo-Saxon community. If we gave up the struggle without another effort, it might be said of us, that, unlike most Englishmen, who do not know when they are beaten, we do not know when we are able to win. Resignation, though sometimes meritorious, in nine times out of ten, a lazy vice. A man might as well resign himself to having a dirty face, and give up washing, as this community to the policy of the Home Government concerning the Military Contribution. To many people it seems useless to attempt any further measures, because the Colonial Office is unreasonable. In reality, it is precisely because of this that further measures are called for. If the department were endowed with a sense of justice, or even with a sense of the ludicrous, it would not be necessary to petition Parliament about that miserable $220,000. In that case, it would only be necessary to send home a photograph of the Praya, in its present state, entitled, "A picture of a rich and flourishing colony, which pays the Imperial Treasury a sponge of $220,000 a year." Exacting tribute from Hongkong at present is like calling on a man out at elbows, with a bad hat, and no heels to his boots, for a large subscription to a fashionable charity. The idea is excessively funny, no doubt; but there is a good deal to interfere with our appreciation of the joke.

In spite of the pecuniary success of the Stamp Act, about which no one could ever have had much doubt, we should say, there is very little reason to fear that we shall be too rapidly extricated from our financial troubles. The colony has been reduced to such a thoroughly embarrassed and shifty existence that it will absorb a great deal of money before it is fairly set upon its legs once more. In private life, when a man begins to fly kites and resort to the manifold dodges of finance in order to keep his head above water, and has been doing this for a year or two, it takes a prodigiously large legacy to set him upon once more in easy circumstances. Being in difficulties seems sometimes an incurable disease. It enters into the blood and is transmitted to descendants, even unto an extraordinary number of generations. Hongkong has had a bad attack of the same malady. It has taken a good deal of stimulating diet in the shape of an unforeseen windfall from new licenses; it has put the finances of the whole community in danger in order to obtain the stamp-medicine ordered by the new doctors; but all apparently in vain. Its strength fails to improve, its constitution looks as if it was hardly fit to bear the strain put upon it. To judge from the appearance of the Praya, one might suppose that mortification had set in at the extremities. Really, we think, if our correspondent is only apprehensive of danger from the accumulation of revenue for which there is no immediate need in the Government treasury, that he may make his mind easy for the present, at all events. None the less, however, is his advice admirable and appropriate. An application to Parliament is the one course which now remains open to the community, and the most hopeful course which could be adopted, even if many others were available. Let us swear an oath, and keep it with an equal mind, not "to live and lie reclined" in a feeble and swinish manner, careless of mankind, but, like reformed and regenerated lotus-eaters, to torment the British legislature with indomitable patience until we obtain the removal of the unjust burden which has been laid upon our backs. There is infinite power in perseverance. There are stories of men who have realised pecuniary claims on the Government, who have won chancery suits, who have married rich women against their will, who have read MARTIN TUPPER through, and half a volume of the Chinese classics, by dint of perseverance. The idea of giving up a good fight for our own money at the first sign of a reverse, when there is not more a shot in the locker, but fleets and armies in reserve, is perfectly monstrous. Besides the whole object of the campaign was not won at Sinope. There are faint-hearted fellows here who want to recall the whole expedition. They would have given up the Crimean war for fear lest the Turkish ships were burned at Sinope. We have had our Sinope—our preliminary reverse. When we sent home a bouncing memorial we expected that it would blow up the whole Colonial Office. Unfortunately it roused life, and the officers of the department at home ignored the document altogether. Very well. The Russians are not to be beaten on the Danube, and we must go to the Crimea. There is really business and hard fighting to be done. Organise a siege train and let us go to work as if we were in earnest.

All considerations point to the necessity of organisation and method in the agitation which has now to be begun. We ought to be prepared to send half-a-dozen petitions to the House, if necessary—an indefinite number, to try one member of Parliament after another, until we find the right man, who is both able and willing to take up our case. Nothing which can be done by means of a spasmodic movement will be of much avail now. We mean that it is useless, or comparatively useless, to call a public meeting, appoint a committee, send home a petition to the House, and then let the organisation by which this result should be accomplished die out as on previous occasions. There must be a permanent organisation here to which any members who take up our case can apply for information—by means of which, indeed, they may be supplied with information in abundance without having to apply for it, and the existence of which will be a guarantee for the sincerity of the colony. There must be an association in Hongkong for taking this matter in hand. The trouble of working an association of such a kind as is needed is not worth speaking of. It ought to be looked upon by intelligent Englishmen as a pleasure to be up and doing at last on behalf of their opinions, their interests, and the welfare of the community to which they belong. Let us have something better in future than this endless, aimless "abuse of the authorities," to which our correspondent refers. Let us fight them, if that is needful; fight them cheerfully with tooth and nail; but not like growling in our kennel as if we were afraid to do anything but snarl at a distance.

Any one of an observant turn of mind who is in the habit of strolling much about town, must have taken notice of the gregarious habits of one Indian police, how they are generally to be seen on the extreme verge of their respective beats in clusters of two and three, having a quiet yarn and quite oblivious to all that is going on around them, or standing in the middle of the street engaged in the same occupation with some solid countryman, probably a watchman. That they do stay at the extreme of their beats for conversational or some other purposes is evident, for after passing one of these gatherings one may walk the neighbouring streets for a very long time without coming across anything in the shape of a policeman and in all probability when fortunate enough to see one, another is not far off. Now, in England, gossiping on his beat, even with a casual passer-by desirous of information, is not an offence lightly looked upon in a constable, and the unfortunate individual so caught by his sergeant is pretty sure of being reported and punished, and the idea of two or three of them lounging in a corner and chatting for half an hour at a time, as is sometimes done here, would be simply preposterous.

Supreme Court, October 25th.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

BEFORE CHIEF-JUSTICE SMALE.

The adjourned October session of Court continued yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Wm. Mackenna, the seaman attached to the Rodney, who was found guilty of cutting and wounding, was placed at the bar to receive sentence.

His Lordship remarked that the prisoner had been found guilty of a crime for which he was liable to be sentenced to penal servitude for life. He had come ashore armed with a knife, and as he had admitted himself, was no intoxicated person. The question that he had no knowledge of what he was doing. Other witnesses, however, deposed that he was not so intoxicated as not to have known what he was doing, and they thought he was aware of the assault he committed. These witnesses were, if anything the best to have over stated the case, and although to do this the prisoner had not wilfully made a false statement in his defence knowing it to be false still he could not overlook the evidence given at the trial. Without the recommendation to mercy of the jury, and also of the Attorney-General, he should have felt himself called upon to pass a very severe sentence, but taking it the recommendation of the jury and the Attorney-General, he felt himself that it was a case in which the mercy of the court could be exercised, and he would therefore, attend to it, and pass upon him the lightest sentence the law allowed. He was sorry that the prisoner appeared to be a man who bore a good character so long and his only, and yet he was such a scamp. The sentence of the court was that he be imprisoned at hard labor for three months.

Chum-a-choong, found guilty of child stealing, was next placed at the bar to receive sentence. This was the case tried on Tuesday last, in which the child was still missing, and sentence was adjourned in order to give the prisoner an opportunity to return the child.

His Lordship asked the mother of the child if her daughter had been returned. She had not.

The mother of the prisoner then came into court and made a long statement, the drift of which was a defence of her son.

His Lordship then said that this was the first case in which a prisoner convicted of child stealing, so far as he had been able to ascertain, that had ever occurred in this colony had not returned the child. The colony had been so prolific in returns of this crime, and also so prolific in the question that he had no knowledge of what he was doing. Other witnesses, however, deposed that he was not so intoxicated as not to have known what he was doing, and they thought he was aware of the assault he committed. Summary Jurisdiction Court, Oct. 25th.

BEFORE JUDGE H. J. BALL.

Gulere v. A. Wing.—This was an action to recover $99.00, claimed to be damages the plaintiff had sustained by the non-fulfilment of a contract with the defendant to build an oven. His Honor said this was the same case he had heard the last court day, when the present defendant was plaintiff, he had then decided the case, and he could not re-hear it now. If plaintiff wished to bring a cross action he should have done it then. If there were any new facts connected with the present claim that he had not heard then, and that had not been brought forward, he would now hear them. Plaintiff replied that he had a claim against the defendant for house rent and for the value of a ladder that he had taken away with him when he finished work. By defendant not having finished the work at the specified time, plaintiff had been obliged to rent a house for seventeen days at the cost of one dollar per day.

His Honor did not see how the non-completion of the oven necessitated plaintiff taking another house. He certainly could not have lived in the oven.

Plaintiff explained that he did not reside in the oven, but that by reason of its not having been finished at the proper time he had been obliged to get some one to where he could carry on his business temporarily.

In regard to the ladder, defendant said that plaintiff had told him he could have this as a gratuity, and in consideration of this he had made the contract price less than he would otherwise have done.

Plaintiff denied that he had made any such promise; the ladder did not belong to him, in the first place, but to his landlord, and he could have no authority to give it away if he chose. Defendant had taken it away without any authority. Some evidence was produced as to the value of this ladder, in view of which His Honor gave judgment for the plaintiff for $5, as a fair value for the ladder. He did not see that any damage had ensued for house rent.

B. Muncherjee v. G. da Silveira.—This was an action to recover $59.04 for house rent. Plaintiff produced an agreement or lease under which the house was rented to defendant the time of this agreement having expired October 1st of the present year.

The defendant admitted the indebtedness except so much of it as was rent for the month of September, since he claimed that during that month plaintiff had re-let the house, and that another tenant had taken possession. This the plaintiff denied, and defendant accordingly called witnesses, but they did not appear to know anything about the affair. A gentleman by the name of E. da Silva, who described himself as a clerk to Marsh & Co., was first put into the box, and after having gone through the form of being sworn came to a dead halt he knew nothing. Miss Scudder was then called, but she rather damaged defendant's case, by saying that she was the present tenant, and had taken possession of the house on the 1st of October. Defendant now wished to call other witnesses to contradict what these two had just said, but His Honor said he could hardly allow such a course of proceedings as this. He had failed to sustain his defence, and judgment was therefore given for plaintiff for the amount claimed.

At the conclusion the defendant coolly walked up to the judge and asked him if he should have to pay for the month of September, but he was informed that the court did not answer questions.

A. Dilmann v. Blumhest.—An action to recover $25.00 for goods sold and delivered. Defendant did not appear, and judgment was accordingly given for the plaintiff.

A. Dilmann v. G. Wilson.—An action to recover $23.50. The defendant, who was connected with the police, did not appear, and judgment was accordingly given for plaintiff.

During the hearing of these two cases, His Honour called plaintiff's attention to the fact that he had attached to the plaint in both cases bills ready receipted and stamped, this was not only wrong, since the document did not require stamping until the money was paid, but he also should not have been signed until the account was liquidated. He had hoped that when the Stamp Tax came in force, the custom of sending around receipted bills, that prevailed so universally in Hongkong, would be done away with, but it did not seem to have had that effect. Suppose the bill was not paid, the stamp was a loss. The existence of a bill receipted and stamped might be used, against the drawer, even though the money had not been received. It was a very unsafe practice, to say the least.

C. T. Kettles v. T. Chester.—An action to recover $31.50 for wages as steward on board ship. Defendant did not appear, and judgment was given for plaintiff.

A. P. Gutierriez v. J. Calhoon.—An action to recover $2.05, for sodawater. Judgment was given for the plaintiff.

Police Intelligence, October 25th.

DESTITUTE EUROPEANS.

Francis Miller, 20, seaman, and James Boyle, 30, labourer, were charged with being rogues and vagabonds, having no residence or employment or visible mode of subsistence, and were committed to gaol for fourteen days.

SIGHT SEEING.

The exhibition just now on view at the Joss House, Hollywood road, appears to attract numberless individuals, who are so wrapt in the beauty of the scene presented to their view that they forget to leave in good time, and being impounded with a pain, are compulsorily separated and locked up for the night. Several of these individuals were brought forward this morning, and were made to pay fifty cents each for their pleasure, one of their number appearing in the uniform of the Hongkong police force.

WHERE THE ICE GOES TO.

Lum-a-foo, describing himself as a farmer in the Tai-pin-shan district, was charged with having in his possession about ten pounds of block ice, for which he could give no reasonable account.

Prisoner said that he had purchased the ice this morning at the ice house, and was carrying it to his master when arrested by the constable. This statement, however, was denied by a gentleman connected with the ice house, who was called to the witness box, and who positively made the statement in his defence knowing it to be false still he could not overlook the evidence given at the trial. Without the recommendation to mercy of the jury, and also of the Attorney-General, he should have felt himself called upon to pass a very severe sentence, but taking it the recommendation of the jury and the Attorney-General, he felt himself that it was a case in which the mercy of the court could be exercised, and he would therefore attend to it, and pass upon him the lightest sentence the law allowed. He was sorry that the prisoner appeared to be a man who bore so good a character so long and his only, and yet he was such a scamp. The sentence of the court was that he be imprisoned at hard labor for three months.

Chum-a-choong, found guilty of child stealing, was next placed at the bar to receive sentence. This was the case tried on Tuesday last, in which the child was still missing, and sentence was adjourned in order to give the prisoner an opportunity to return the child.

His Lordship asked the mother of the child if her daughter had been returned. She had not.

The mother of the prisoner then came into court and made a long statement, the drift of which was a defence of her son.

His Lordship then said that this was the first case in which a prisoner convicted of child stealing, so far as he had been able to ascertain, that had ever occurred in this colony had not returned the child. The colony had been so prolific in returns of this crime, and also so prolific in the question that he had no knowledge of what he was doing. Other witnesses, however, deposed that he was not so intoxicated as not to have known what he was doing, and they thought he was aware of the assault he committed. These witnesses were, if anything the best to have over stated the case, and although to do this the prisoner had not wilfully made a false

Business Announcements.

FRENCH MEDICINES,
PREPARED BY
GRIMAULT AND Co.,
Chemists to H. I. H. Prince Napoleon,
Paris.

These different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist, in France, with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the Hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorised by the Government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellency of Messrs. GRIMAULT AND CIE.'S medicines.

DOCTOR LERAS'
(Doctor of Medicine)
LIQUID PROSPHATE OF IRON.

The newest and most esteemed medicine in cases of:
Chlorosis, pains in the stomach, difficult digestion, dismenorrhea, anæmia, general debility, and poorness of blood.

It is particularly recommended to regulate the functions of nature, and to all ladies of delicate constitution, as well as to persons suffering under every kind of debility whatsoever. It is the preservative of health par excellence, in all warm and relaxing climates.

No more Cod-Liver Oil.
GRIMAULT'S SYRUP OF IODIZED HORSE-RADISH.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the Hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for COD LIVER OIL, and has been found most beneficial in diseases of the chest, scrofula, lymphatic disorders, green sickness, muscular atony, and loss of appetite. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in diseases of the skin. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to humours and obstruction of the glands.

Consumption Cured!
GRIMAULT'S SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITE OF LIME.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in cases of consumption and other diseases of the lungs. It promptly removes all the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease, and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

N.B.—Be sure to see that the signature of GRIMAULT & Co. is affixed to the bottle, as this syrup is liable to imitations.

No more Difficult or Painful Digestion.
DR. BURIN DU BUISSON'S
(Laureate of the Paris Imperial Academy of Medicine)
Digestive Lozenges.

This delicious preparation is always prescribed by the most reputed medical men in France, in cases of derangements of the digestive functions, such as:

GASTRITIS, GASTRALGIA, long and laborious digestion, wind in the stomach and bowels, emaciation, jaundice, and complaints of the liver and loins.

No more Dyspepsia, vomiting during pregnancy, or sea sickness.

GRIMAULT'S ELIXIR OF PEPSINE.

Pepsine undergoes no alteration in this delicious preparation. It will consequently be preferred to PEPSINE POWDERS or Pills. It is the digestive medicine par excellence, and is at the same time a most agreeable table liqueur.

Messrs. Grimault beg to call the attention of the faculty and of the public in general to the fact that real pepsine is prepared in France alone. It is far superior to all others often extracted from the stomach of porci.

No more Copaiba and Cubebs.
GRIMAULT'S CAPSULES AND LIQUID EXTRACT OF MATICO VEGETALIS.

Where all other Medicines have failed, these preparations will always effect a cure. These insure rapid and extraordinary cure of recent, recent, and chronic cases of gleet without disease. They are used in the Hospitals of Paris, by the celebrated Dr. RICORD, and are found greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral remedies and Copaiba and Cubebs. The injection is used in recent, and capsules in the more chronic cases.

N.B.—All the above medical preparations are accompanied by instructions as to the manner in which they are to be taken.
